ABSTRACT: - Education is a multifaceted, long-lasting process. All the environment that surrounds the child - people, things, events - leaves a certain mark on his mind and behavior, changes it and develops it. It is the responsibility of the parents to manage this development wisely. Parents' love, kindness, and care are as necessary for children as water and air.

KEYWORDS: Education, ethics, aesthetics, spiritual and moral qualities.

INTRODUCTION

The great responsibility of raising a family falls primarily on fathers and mothers. At this point, one thing should be said that the main influencing force in children's education is Mother. In most peoples, the father is busy with the family's economic affairs, in addition to meeting and providing for the material needs of the family. This is a fact known from the history of Uzbek families and a tradition inherited from our ancestors. Accordingly, more mothers will be with the child. After all, it was not for nothing that our people said: "What goes in with milk comes out with life." Our government takes care of the family as the basis of society, and uses all the possibilities for its material and household development. For example, the First President I. Karimov writes about the role and importance of the family in society: "A child lives in a family environment from the day of birth. Family traditions, values, and customs form a child's personality. The most important thing is that children understand the demands of society through family life and the school of life." The essence of the pedagogical idea put forward in this place is related to the proper implementation, strengthening and deepening of family education. In Uzbek families, you can find negative situations regarding child upbringing. For example: some parents complain about their children's unkindness. Most parents have the same opinion about their children who have gone down the wrong path: "they don't stick to what they know, they don't know how to respect. It's not a secret that there are more and more children who are difficult to raise. There are internal and external reasons for this. Sometimes the children are sent to the "Mercy House" by their parents and relatives. Since when did our people start using the term "Mercy House"? What is the secret of our ancestors who raised children?

Nowadays, it is the responsibility of the parents to organize the upbringing of girls, to bring up the best qualities, to reflect all the qualities such as manners and morals in girls. In this regard, self-restraint, respectability, modesty, modesty, modesty, sweet speech, kindness, activeness, cooking, skillfulness are the most beautiful and unique definitions of girls. Unfortunately, up until now, some girls have lost the above feelings as a result of the violation of education. In this matter, parents, neighborhood, family, school, camps, teachers, friends play a big and important role. If all girls, not only girls, but also boys are given good education from a young age, if they teach good qualities and encourage them to do good, if they teach them to do every job and thing correctly, it will definitely be fruitful.

Today, we see a lot of changes in the manners and morals of girls, and the reason for this is the feeling of not having received a good education. We see all kinds of words, sayings, meaningless, absurd thoughts coming from her mouth - we hate her, we get angry, we shake our heads with the thoughts that she is good, she is modest, such girls are only o He doesn't know that he is embarrassing his parents, neighborhood, and teachers with his words. Such girls do more harm than good to our society. We are tormented by the questions of how he will be able to create a family in the future, and how he will be able to educate his children if he is not well educated yet. Bad education of the future will lead to many disasters and bad things. The world community appreciates Uzbek women for their intelligence, morals, behavior, behavior, honesty, national dress, as well as modesty, honor, expression, loyalty, kindness, attitude, faith. We hope that it will continue to be a personal example in the education of girls, which has a high value, prestige and prestige with its oriental spiritual and moral qualities such as faith. Unfortunately, during the occupation of Turkestan by Czarist Russia, during the former Soviet system, the above-mentioned spiritual and moral qualities and values of Uzbek women were degraded. It is good that the influence of this in family life has ended even now. Nowadays, in some families, a young mother takes on the role of a father in local conditions or abroad: living far away from her family as a result of neglecting children, entrusting the upbringing of children to the father (sisters, aunts and other acquaintances), not fulfilling the duties and tasks of motherhood in order to feed the family, materially putting wealth above spiritual wealth, separating from his family by sacrificing his honor and dignity, moving away from Eastern morals and spiritual heritage, dressing in a European way, behavior and life. The fact that events such as imitating the style of children, indifference to child education in general, are taking place in life are causing moral damage to family education, especially to the education of girls, and to the devaluation of national values, and to girls' national consciousness, self-awareness, and national feelings such as national pride. This situation leads to serious defects in the upbringing of young mothers. A mother who does not have a national consciousness, that is, an opinion, cannot raise her children perfectly. As a result of this, problems in the education of girls are increasing now. Also, the popularization of unconscious imitation in the education of girls is causing great moral damage to family education. Based on this, who is responsible for the education and future of innocent children who are far from mother's love and warmth? Who will guarantee that such children will be raised spiritually? Can a single father, relatives, guardians of orphanages give a child motherly love and affection? Family pedagogy and social pedagogy sciences need to provide perfect, reasonable answers to such questions based on the current conditions and the demand of the time. Any expert's intelligent answer to these questions is the basis for understanding the urgency of the problem. That's why in some families today, mothers setting a personal example in the education of girls remains a more urgent problem than ever.

The way to scientifically and practically solve this pedagogical problem can be achieved by organizing, increasing and improving the pedagogical culture of pedagogic experts and parents about the personal example of mothers in the education of girls. In a family where the mother is a personal role model, a girl who grows up in the bosom and example of a mother who organizes and saves the material blessings that the father has found, is practically prepared to make a family happy as a woman in the future. In family life, he takes an example from his mother and independently acquires and learns intellectual, moral, work, sophistication, saving skills, national behavior and other social experiences necessary for family and social life, family and practical preparation for social life.

The place where girls live and grow up from birth to womanhood is the family and neighborhood. He gets his first education from here and adapts to this environment. The suitors, who are looking for a bride, inquire and observe from the first neighborhood, the neighborhood, the neighborhood. He inquired about how you were brought up, how you walk, how you stand, how you behave, how you behave. If he has had a good education, he will be rated with a good salary. On the other hand, it causes him to speak bad words not only about himself, but also to his parents. That's why it is considered necessary for all girls to be polite as much as possible so that they and their parents do not turn their faces to the ground in front of the neighborhood. The characteristics of decent girls are decreasing nowadays. Of course, this is not for all girls, but for some girls.

At present, the deficiencies in education have reached a peak. As an example, we can say that all kinds of cosmetics, companies, various movies have increased in popularity, all of these are factors that cause girls' education to be disturbed. They know to a greater extent which perfume belongs to which company and which movie. We are not saying that he should not pay attention to these things, let him be interested in moderation, read, learn, ask, search for his own benefit, he needs it, he will not look at many people in the face. In this place, teacher education plays a big role. He needs to be able to make students interested in learning and to be able to teach. In the family, the problem of girls is considered difficult, because girls are sensitive, because all kinds of words are dangerous for her honor. It is better that women, mothers deal mainly with girls. A mother can understand the pain of girls. The upbringing of the mother, teachers at school, mentors in studies, employees at workplaces, in the neighborhood, and neighbors lays the groundwork for girls to be well-educated, well-mannered, and intelligent in the future.

Based on the education of the above experts, a smart, knowledgeable, experienced, well-mannered person will be created in the future. This is definitely a bright star and reward for himself, for the community, for teachers, and for parents. Of course, every girl can achieve this, if she tries, strives, believes.
